GREAT INTEREST CHARGES AREN'T SUSTAINED HERE

Judge Walsh Decides Against Man Who Demanded Usurious Fee.

The habit of charging 150 per cent. interest on a loan was not encouraged by Judge Walsh of the common pleas court when he handed down a decision today in the suit brought by Gust Miller of this city against Thomas Osborne of Monroe. The court found that Miller had been trying to evade the statute regarding rates of interest and he found in favor of Osborne to recover costs.

In June, 1914, Osborne procured a loan of $509 from Miller but had to pay a bonus of $150 for the money. The loan was charged with having received $659. To secure the note a mortgage on four pieces of Monroe property was given. In giving his decision Judge Walsh finds the loan was made for the purpose of evading the statute which states that not greater than 12 per cent. interest shall be charged on loans of $50 or more. In addition to the bonus charges of $25 for legal services and $3 for carriage hire were made against Osborne. He decided to fight the case when Miller claimed the note was unpaid and brought foreclosure proceedings.

Fairfield Physician Held In $5,000 Bail For Fatal Accident

Coroner John J. Phelan will tomorrow view the scene near Ash Creek where Edward M. Benton, 34, of Fairfield, was struck and killed yesterday by a car driven by Health Officer Nagle of Fairfield. Tomorrow afternoon he will hold an inquest on Benton's death. The latter was an engineer in the employ of the Crane Valve Co. He was 51 years old and leaves a widow and daughter.

John Frederick Bartlett this morning held Dr. Nagle in bonds of $5,000 on manslaughter charge. A friend furnished the money.

This afternoon at 3, the coroner held a hearing in the case of Thomas Congdon who was killed yesterday while stepping into a freight elevator at the Locomobile factory. This morning the coroner went to Shelton to investigate the death of John Jacobs of Shelton, who was struck by an automobile at Paradise Green over a month ago. He did not die until yesterday.

Argentina's Ships Are Being Sold to Warring Countries

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Nov. 21—The whittling away of the Argentine merchant marine by the warring nations, ger boats and fishing fleet, continues rapidly, owing to the foreign demand for vessels. The best known of the shipping companies in the River Plate has parted with passenger and cargo steamers without, it appears, any immediate intention of replacing them. The sale of two more river boats is announced, the purchasers being European firms who have paid 100,000 pounds sterling for them. Two modern tugs have also been disposed of for 36,000 pounds the pair.

Jail Sentences For Those Caught in Raid

The recent activities of the police department in their determination to suppress houses of a disorderly character resulted in three women receiving fines and suspended jail sentences of 30 days in the city court this morning before Judge Frederic Bartlett. All had been arrested by Sergeant John E. Barton last Saturday night in raids.

Cora Aube was fined $50 and costs and given a suspended jail sentence for running a disorderly house at 94 State street; Annie Brown, a New Haven girl, who was arrested in the house, was fined $25 and costs and given a suspended jail sentence. Fred Greenwood, a State street resident who, the police allege, was a "runner" for the establishment was fined $25 and costs.

Annie Mott, who was harged with running a disorderly house at 103 State street was fined $60 and costs and given a suspended sentence of 30 days in jail.

Child Weeps When Court Awards Her To Waiting Mother

Hartford, Nov. 21—Judge Shumway in the superior court today gave little Louise Parsons, six years old, into possession of her mother, Mrs. Ada Molampy, of New Haven. The action follows the services of a writ of habeas corpus some days ago on Mr. and Mrs. J. Roberts of Meriden, who refused to surrender the child to her mother, the latter claiming it was because she owed for the little girl's board.

Anna Louise sobbed piteously when taken from Mrs. Roberts and given to her mother. She had been in the Roberts family since one year of age and they loved her as their own.

Maj. George E. Hall To Succeed Tilson

Hartford, Nov. 21—Major George E. Hall, of New Haven, has been elected lieutenant-colonel of the Second Connecticut infantry to succeed Lieutenant-Colonel John Q. Tilson, resigned. The ballots of the officers of the Second were counted today and the result announced by the adjutant-general. Major Hall commanded the Second battalion of the Second on the border last summer. Major Henry M. Beebe, of New Haven, was a close second in the vote.

The jury in the case of Frank J. Richards, formerly of Lincoln, Neb., charged with attempted blackmail of David E. Thompson, of Nebraska, returned a verdict of guilty after being out 21 hours.

Chicago live stock receipts last week aggregated 493,570 head against 372,617 a year ago.

ELOPERS THWART COPS SEEKING TO HALT CEREMONY

New York, Nov. 21—Details of a sensational elopement in which a determined young couple escaped the police of several cities who were endeavoring to thwart their plans, and were married Sunday night at Port Chester, N. Y., became known yesterday.

The elopers were Miss Caroline Hinman Parker of Hartford, Conn., and Walton Hall Smith, Yale student, from Kansas City. The marriage ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace Malcolm Merritt, who had finished the service less than five minutes when in dashed several policemen.

The former Miss Parker and Mr. Smith attended the Yale-Princeton football game at Princeton Saturday and immediately it was over they went back to Hartford in the young woman's automobile. They then decided to elope.

Police Put on Their Track.
 The following day they again entered the young woman's car and started for Greenwich. Their plans became known and all along the line the police began to receive word to stop the elopement. Just who had notified the police could not be learned.

They made their first stop at Greenwich, where a marriage license was refused. Then they began to suspect something was wrong and hurried to Port Chester. They arrived there at 9:30 o'clock and went to the home of Town Clerk Charles C. Derby, who issued a license.

After this Justice of the Peace Merritt was visited and the ceremony was performed. George Harrington, the chauffeur, acting as witness. Then came the call of the police, but the young couple had gone.

Sold Goods to Get Elopement Funds
 Smith confided to the town clerk that when he returned to college from Princeton he was out of funds and sold part of his wardrobe and room furnishings to fellow students in order to get sufficient funds for the elopement.

Both bride and bridegroom gave their ages as 21, but it is said the girl's father objected to the wedding because she was under age.

The bridegroom is a son of Leon Smith, president of the Smith, McCord, Townsend Wholesale Dry Goods Co., Kansas City. Interviewed there last night, the merchant said he did not know the bride but that he was acquainted with her family. He added there would be no objections on his part now, but that he would have stopped the marriage had he known of it in time.

May Have to Quit College

It was said at the college office last night there is a rule that students who wed cannot continue in the undergraduate body, but that usually each case is considered separately.

The present Mrs. Smith has been prominent among the younger people in Hartford society and had expected to be one of its debutantes this winter. She was educated at the National Cathedral, Washington, and is exceedingly pretty. Her father is John Dwight Parker, assistant secretary of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co.

Pours 1,500 Bottles of Ancient Wine Into Big Hole in Ground

London, Nov. 21—The action of Rosalind Countess of Carlisle in pouring away into the ground about 1,500 bottles of wine as evidence of her strong temperance views, has aroused a storm of criticism in letters to the newspapers. The Countess is president of the British Women's Temperance association. She has been a lifelong total abstainer and temperance advocate.

The wine was of old vintage and was stored in the cellars of Castle Howard, the Yorkshire estate of the Countess. She inherited the stock but is said to have kept the cellars sealed for the last thirty years. A few days ago the wine cellar were opened, a large hole was dug near the Countess' mansion and the caretaker poured the contents of the bottles into it.

The Countess' action has been criticized on the ground that while it is consistent with her principles, the wine would be very acceptable in military hospitals for the use of convalescing soldiers.

FOUR HUNDRED DOLLAR FIRE IN STILLMAN STREET

Fire apparatus was called out on four alarms today, the first sounded at 7 o'clock. None of the fires caused any serious damage, a dwelling house at 638 Stillman street, owned by Stephen Kossack and occupied on the first floor by John Broda, sustaining the greatest loss, about $400.

The building is a three story wooden structure, occupied by three families. The fireman confined the flames to two rooms in the Broda tenement. The blaze resulted from an overheated stove.

Your Fortune.
 We should manage our fortune like our constitution—enjoy it when good, have patience when bad and never apply violent remedies but in cases of necessity.—Rochefoucauld.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Common Colds.
 Two classes of common colds are recognized by Dr. F. P. Smart in a Virginia medical review.

The infectious cold gradually passes to the entire family. The vasomotor cold is due primarily to exposure—exposure which, by lowering resistance in the head, permits the normal scavenger germs of the nose to become parasitic. When the feeling that a fresh cold is coming on is experienced the simplest preventive is a little vigorous exercise or a rapid succession of deep respirations. This is often effective, but if the vasomotor cold is not promptly broken up it develops the symptoms and dangers of the other class, except the infection. The treatment suggested as probably the best includes a brisk purge, a hot foot bath at night, a glass of hot lemonade, ten grains of Dover's powder, keeping well covered and late morning rising. The complications liable to attend the cold that has become established are often overlooked or neglected and require special treatment to keep the nasal passages freely drained and ventilated and to provide for the removal of the irritating products.

The Greater Blessing.
 Javkins—Ah, my boy, it's a fine thing to have a friend whom you can trust. Pawkins—It's a jolly sight better to have one who will trust you, old man.

The Silkworm.
 A single cocoon of the ordinary silk worm will frequently give a double thread 1,100 feet in length.
